Polio Fund Drive Opens Here

Unique Stunt Is Staged to Stir Public

They were still talking about the unique stunt which leaders of the polio drive staged Saturday in front of the Craig Brothers Store to focus attention on the campaign, which got underway in this county Monday.

It all started about 3:30 P. M., Saturday when a siren pierced the air in downtown Washington C. H.

A police car wheeled around the corner of Main and Court, closely followed by the Gerstner ambulance. Both vehicles pulled to a halt in front of the Craig Brothers Store on Court Street.

Busy ambulance attendants disappeared in the front door of the Craig store as a crowd started to collect.

Southern Ohio Hit by Floods

Rainfall of 1.48 inches here from midnight Saturday until 7 A. M. Monday, took away most of the snow which had fallen last week, but another light snow fell late Sunday night, and this too, was melting rapidly Monday.

From Saturday midnight until 7 A. M. Sunday, .55 of an inch of rain fell, and from 7 A. M. Sunday until 7 A. M. Monday precipitation was .93 of an inch.

Streams were running bank full in the county, with some of them overflowing into the lowlands adjacent.

The mercury tumbled from 44 degrees Sunday afternoon to 31 degrees at an early hour Monday.

The weekend rains, which were general over a wide area, sent streams surging over lowlands throughout southern Ohio, reports assembled by the Associated Press Monday revealed.

Floods were causing hardships in several towns and many highways and secondary roads were reported closed because of high water.

Almost before the ink was dry on the "home town boy makes good" story about Paul H. Wood that was in the Record-Herald last week, the telephone began to ring. One after another of his old friends here wanted to know more, usually his address in Manila, where he is president of the Chamber of Commerce, vice president and general manager of the International Harvester Co. of the Philippines, and more recently was named the "Trade Leader of the Year."

All of which just bears out that old truism that "nothing succeeds like success," and that most to bask in the shadows of the successful and say "I knew him when."

But, out of the calls came an odd coincidence. Paul Wood's sister has been visiting here since Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reichelderfer. The sister, Mrs. Pearl Reich, lives in South Carolina now and has been back to her native city only a few times since the Wood family moved to Eustis, Fla., a quarter of a century ago. Her husband is a brother of Frank Reichelderfer, but has shortened his name to Reich for convenience. The interested caller said.

Boys Facing Draft Put in Phone Call To Russia's Stalin

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 15—(AP)—Three Vanderbilt University students concerned about the prospects of being drafted decided to do some investigating.

Tonight they placed a person-to-person call to Joseph Stalin, Moscow, Russia. The call is scheduled for completion later today.

"We want to ask him if we should join up now or wait for the draft," said Jimmy Threlkeld of Tupelo, Miss.

Other students at the Phi Delta Theta Fraternity House chipped in to help raise $9 for three minutes, he added. Assisting on the project were Charles Newman of Cookeville, Tenn., and Hans Pauls of Steubenville, O., Threlkeld said.

Slain Man's Body Is Partially Burned

MARTINS FERRY, Jan. 15—(AP)—Police today were working on the theory that an unidentified man found murdered in lonely country lane near here may have been killed outside Ohio.

After more than 24 hours, identity of the victim, a middle-aged man whose throat was slit from ear to ear before his body was set afire in a car, still was not known.

Frank Neavin, who lives in the area, discovered the slaying yesterday morning when he saw smoke coming from a car parked 100 yards off State Route 7, two miles north of Martins Ferry.

William H. Irwin, Belmont County prosecutor, said police checked four states—Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Michigan.

HUNDREDS of people flocked to see what they thought was some sort of human tragedy on busy Court Street here Saturday afternoon. But, what they saw was a scene enacted to impress them with the menace of polio. It was part of the whoopla to start the March of Dimes campaign here. (R-H Photo)

Enlistments Now All Go to Draft Boards

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15—(AP)—President Truman today directed all youths volunteering for the armed services must do so through their local draft boards.

Under his order, the volunteer must file an application with his board for voluntary induction. This is required whether or not the volunteer has been registered.

If a registrant is unable to return to his local board to volunteer, he may file application with the local board in the area where he may be residing at the time of his decision.

Under the regulations, a man filing for voluntary induction will be classified as soon as possible and placed in the class available for military service if he qualifies.

A man not required to be registered for induction who volunteers will be registered and given a selective service number in the same manner as those required to register.

The White House made public Mr. Truman's order without any immediate explanatory statement. It was not clear whether it would leave the volunteer free to enter the service of his choice.

At present, the navy and air force have been receiving all the volunteers they can handle.

The draft has been used only to get manpower for the army. Mr. Truman's order was issued while defense department officials pressed at the capitol their contention that 18-year-olds are needed to meet the armed forces manpower goals.

AT&T Dividends $10.39 per Share

NEW YORK, Jan. 15—(AP)—The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. in a preliminary estimate today reported net income of $286,710,000 or $10.39 a share for the year ended Dec. 31.

This left a margin of $1.39 a share over the traditional $9 annual dividend paid by the company, parent firm of the Bell System which operates four-fifths of the nation's telephones.

Huge Tax Increases Asked By President as Pay-Go Basis For National Preparedness

The budget at a glance for the fiscal year ending June 30:

	1951	1952
Spending	$47,210,000,000	$71,594,000,000
Income (X)	44,512,000,000	55,138,000,000
Deficit (X)	2,698,000,000	16,456,000,000
Year-end debt (X)	260,300,000,000	276,300,000,000

(X) under present tax laws.

By CHARLEY MOLONY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15—(AP)—President Truman laid down today a $71,594,000,000 spending budget for the government next year and declared sound policy requires that taxes be increased $16,456,000,000 to balance it.

"This is a budget for our national security in a period of grave danger," Mr. Truman told the new Congress, which will have full say-so on new taxes.

The huge expenditure the president proposed for the fiscal year starting July 1—more than half of which would go to the military—figures out to about $471 for every one of the some 152,000,000 men, women and children in the U. S. And if the president has his way, just about that same amount will be collected from the average citizen although some of it, of course, would be in the form of hidden taxes.

In a sense, Mr. Truman's bulky budget message was a more controversial document than his "State of the Union" address delivered last Monday.

Points of Disagreement

The fact that the budget proposed a slight increase in non-defense spending rather than the reduction many lawmakers have been demanding seemed certain to arouse ire in some congressional quarters.

So did the fact that the message called for many of Mr. Truman's pet "fair deal" measures such as the civil rights program and a major part of the Brannan farm plan.

In its broad aspects, the budget: 1. Estimated U. S. military service costs for the year starting July 1 at $41,421,000,000—58 percent of the budget total. That is more than (Continued From Page Six)

Hunted Killer Caught, Report

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Jan. 15—(AP)—Sheriff Bert Strand said he was informed Badman Bill Cook, suspected slayer of eight, has been captured in Mexico.

The information received by the sheriff's office shortly before 10 A. M. Pacific Standard time today was that Cook was located 600 miles below the border in the desolate region of the lower California peninsula.

With him, the report said, were two El Centro California prospectors, Forrest Damron, 32, and James Burke, 33, missing for ten days. They were said to be unharmed.

Five Meet Death In Bomber Crash

CHICAGO, Jan. 15—(AP)—A B-26 bomber crashed northwest of Chicago early today, killing its five crewmen.

The crewmen, three officers and two enlisted men, were members of the 126th Composite Group of the Illinois Air National Guard based at O'Hare Field in suburban Park Ridge.

They were returned to O'Hare after a long training flight. They took off last night from Barksdale Air Force Base, La.

Narrowly missing a farm house, the plane plowed into field near the Glenview Naval Air Station and exploded.

A few minutes earlier the crew had radioed the tower at O'Hare Field that they were having trouble with heavy icing on the wings.

Braddock Case Takes New Turn

Two Early Leads In Hunt Collapse

Two new developments in the disappearance of Mrs. Minerva Braddock took place Monday. They seem definitely to place Mrs. Braddock in Cleveland on Dec. 18, the day after she left her home here about 10:30 P. M.

Sheriff Orland Hays, who is continuing his search for the missing woman, was notified Monday by the Cleveland police that a well dressed woman, answering the description of Mrs. Braddock had left the Braddock car parked on Ninth Street in Cleveland, at 9 A. M. Dec. 18.

A man passing at that time noticed she dropped a white glove. He said he picked it up and hung it on the door handle, as the woman vanished around a nearby corner, police told Sheriff Hays.

Another important development was that a re-check made of the mileage record at a service station here showed that the record was made on Nov. 16, instead of Dec. 16, so that a month had elapsed for the 800 miles additional shown by the speedometer.

Still Alive, Belief

Both developments are taken to be further indication that Mrs. Braddock is still alive.

Sheriff Hays is continuing his check on all clues and information, reaching him, and one or two bits of information, now being checked appear promising, he said.

One of the chief mysteries in the case—that the car had been driven 800 miles in a matter of 18 hours—is now definitely cleared up, with reports indicating that Mrs. Braddock drove into Cleveland the morning of Dec. 18.

Her trip to Cleveland was made in the face of her supposed plans to begin work for a Columbus firm Monday morning, Dec. 18, and also in face of a statement made to her mother that she was going to Florida in an effort to bring about a reconciliation with her former husband, Fred Braddock.

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 15—(AP)—"All About Eve" tops an Associated Press poll of 100 leading Hollywood correspondents in the best movie of 1950. Judy Holliday, Bette Davis, Gloria Swanson are virtually tied for best-actress honors.

"Eve," an incisive backstage drama, received 45 votes. Next were "Sunset Boulevard," with 22; "King Solomon's Mines," 7½, and "The Men," 6.

A sizzling race among ballots on the year's starring actress showed:

Miss Holliday, as the dumb blonde heroine of "Born Yesterday"—32 votes.

Miss Davis, Broadway star of "Eve"—31½.

Miss Swanson, the old-time movie star in "Sunset Boulevard"—30½.

Jose Ferrer, as the bis-sexed wordsman-poet in "Cyrano de Bergerac," led the starring-actor field with 38½ votes.

Other contenders included William Holden in "Sunset Boulevard," 19½; James Stewart in "Harvey," 11; Louis Calhern in "The Magnificent Yankee," 8; Marlon Brando in "The Men," 7; and Gregory Peck in "The Gun-fighter," 6.

New Peace Bid Made to China

LAKE SUCCESS, Jan. 15—(AP)—United Nations diplomats paced the corridors today, waiting for Communist China's reply to their latest peace bid.

If previous experience is any criterion, their vigil promised to be long. The Communist Peiping regime twice kept the UN on tenterhooks for over a week before it rejected two previous appeals.

Some were optimistic this time. The new offer, adopted by the 60-nation political committee Saturday, gives the Chinese Reds much the kind of a deal they have been demanding.

Previous resolutions only asked for a cease-fire in Korea. The new proposals offer the Communists, after fighting is halted, a political conference on Far Eastern ques- (Please turn to Page Ten)

Construction Ban Is Clamped Down

Arguments on 18-year-old Draft And Russia's War Debt Going on WASHINGTON, Jan. 15—(AP)—The government today banned the construction of new stores, restaurants, office and other commercial buildings until Feb. 15.

Thereafter, each private new commercial structure must be specially authorized by the National Production Authority.

NPA issued the order to save materials for the mobilization program.

Commercial building will be authorized, in general, only if it (1) furthers the defense effort, (2) is essential to public health, welfare or safety; or (3) alleviates or prevents a hardship in a community.

The order applies to new construction "starts" and not to building already under way.

During the initial one-month freeze, NPA said it will grant permission "only in emergency cases."

Regulations Broad

The types of construction regulated include banks, hotels, office and out buildings, barber and beauty shops, arcades, service stations, laundry and dry cleaning establishments, shoe repair and tailor shops, eating places, printing shops, motels and tourist camps.

16 Young Men Here Called For in Draft

Fayette County will be called upon to furnish 16 men for the February draft quota of 5,648 for Ohio, it was reported today by the Associated Press.

This county quota is one of the highest since the inductions were renewed last fall.

For the first time since the Korean war began, induction of 20-year-olds was authorized.

Col. C. W. Goble, director of the Ohio Selective Service, said most of the February quota would be made up of men in the 21 and 20-year-old age groups. Everyone of the 88 counties in the state, except Holmes, was instructed to send up men.

Selective Service specified, however, that no one born on April 1, 1930 or thereafter should be called up.

College students will be excused from induction until they complete their college year, Colonel Goble said.

A student called up would have to take his pre-induction physical examination.

After receiving his order to report for induction, he would then notify Selective Service of his college status and would be granted a postponement.

Quotas for some of the surrounding counties are as follows: Clinton, 17; Highland, 19; Madison, 16; Pickaway, 18; and Ross, 37.

Cuyahoga will have to provide 947 men while Franklin County will have to furnish 347.

Red Resistance Oddly Missing

New Trap Feared On Retreat Route

By OLEN CLEMENTS

TOKYO, Tuesday, Jan. 16—(AP)—American and Allied forces gained up to 12 miles Monday in a sudden offensive on the western Korean front south of Seoul.

Tank-infantry teams by night-fall had recaptured three towns—Osan, Kumyangsang and Chon.

The attack by an army that had been in retreat since late November came only a few hours after Gen. J. Lawton Collins said American forces "will certainly stay and fight" in Korea.

Collins made his fighting statement during a visit to Korea.

A blazing morning strike by fifth air force fighters and bombers paved the way for the attack.

The U. S. army chief of staff said troop replacements will begin to flow into Korea in two or three months. He added at a news conference during his fourth visit to the Korean theater.

One new regular army division will be organized. National guard units will be called into service.

Some replacements for American troops already are going to the front.

Planes Join Battle

Allied warplanes lashed at Suwon Monday with a blazing one-two punch. B-26 light bombers roared down on the airport city 20 miles south of Seoul shortly after daybreak, bombing and strafing enemy troops and buildings.

Then the fighter-bombers—F-80 Shooting Star jets, rocketing and machinegunning the fleeing Reds.

The fifth air force said nearly 1,000 Communist troops were cut down as they fled northwards.

While Collins was taking a close look at the Korean war situation, Allied troops withdrew under heavy fire from Yagwol, on the east-central front. They had recaptured the fire-blackened town only Sunday.

The withdrawal highlighted the mounting pressure against the U. S. Second Division, which has been holding off powerful Red forces near Wonju, 30 miles northwest of Yongwol.

Also a grave threat to the Second Division's defense of roads fanning out into the heart of South Korea was a Communist force of possibly 30,000 far behind the front.

This Communist force was reported operating in the rugged mountain area 25 to 55 miles south of Wonju. It threatened to choke off the Second Division's withdrawal route back to the main body of Allied troops.

Red Reinforcements

Meanwhile, Communist reinforcements were reported pouring into the area north and west of Wonju. There they would be in position for a frontal assault against the stand-fast American, French and Dutch troops of the division or a flank sweep building up the cut-off threat.

Collins' promise that the U. S. would stay in Korea followed a series of high-level talks in Tokyo. These brought together General (Please turn to Page Nine)

Board Uncertain About Protest

Outgrowth of Fight At Basketball Game

The administration of Jeffersonville High School was still uncertain Monday as to whether or not to file a protest against the sportsmanship conduct of two spectators at a basketball game played in the Armory last Friday night.

Carl Boring, superintendent of Jeffersonville High School, said today: "If the board so wishes, I will file a complaint."

The complaint or protest would be filed with the Commissioner of Athletics for the State of Ohio.

Filing of the protest would follow the alleged assault on a Jeffersonville basketball player, Richard Smith, in a hall outside the Jeffersonville dressing room Friday night.

Donald Byrd of Columbus, a former resident of Bloomingburg, is locked up in the city jail charged with cutting with intent to maim Smith with a Coca-Cola bottle.

His twin brother, Dean Byrd, also of Columbus, paid a $50 fine and costs on a charge of fishing and was released by city police.

Game Still on Schedule

Supt. Boring and Supt. G. H. Biddle of the Bloomingburg High School feel that the host school is responsible for the actions of its spectators and felt that the incident was regrettable in view of the close athletic rivalry between the two schools.

Supt. Boring said the game scheduled between Bloomingburg and Jeffersonville for Jan. 26 will be played.

"There has been no disturbance at the home games of any kind... To cancel the game would only create more of a disturbance and aggravate the situation," Supt. Boring declared.

Supt. Biddle wanted it made clear that the offending spectators were not from Bloomingburg but Columbus.

One of the brothers reportedly was booked at the police station as being from Bloomingburg. Both had played on the Bloomingburg basketball team when they attended school. Neither has lived in that community for the past three or four years.

W. J. Hilly, superintendent of county schools, said he plans to take no further action than has already been taken in the case.

Meanwhile, Smith has returned to his classes at Jeffersonville brother, John Sagar, who entered the service just before Christmas, is now at Great Lakes Naval Training Station.

Charles Manker was brought from Miami Valley Hospital, Dayton, to Memorial Hospital, Sunday evening. He is receiving further treatment for an injured spine suffered in a traffic accident near Dayton several days ago. M. Manker resides at 723 South North Street.

Robert Coy was released from Memorial Hospital and returned to his home in New Holland, Sunday afternoon, in the Kirkpatrick ambulance. He is recovered from injuries suffered at the John Craig home on the Robinson Road, when he fell from the roof while installing a television aerial.

Braddock Case

at the Braddock home showing that Mrs. Braddock had consulted a woman in Springfield who calls herself a "psychologist" and that the woman had told her she was going to make two trips, one very unexpectedly, and the other more definite.

Also that she would "soon meet two men, a tall handsome man and the other a banty rooster type of man."

The information indicated that the "psychologist" had told her a number of other things.

Sheriff Hays has paid little attention to the "fortune teller" phase of the case.

As the days have gone by and new developments have taken place, officials are taking the stand that Mrs. Braddock is still alive and that she may be in Florida.

Polio Drive Stunt

again from the store, hundreds of people had either started to gather or gaped from windows in buildings and cars.

Someone was heard to remark: "Heard a woman fell down stairs in Craig's store and was killed."

Rumors Rampant
There were other wild rumors which buzzed through the crowd. Then the unveiling came. The inert "body" on the stretcher moved and jerked upright.

There was almost a sigh which rippled through the crowd when it stood erect—a boy, Sidney Terhune, holding a bold placard which read, "Polio is unfair to children."

Amid the chuckling and laughing of the crowd, Don Gibson, Walter Rettig and Mac Dews passed among them with a hat accept-

Rev. Peterson Resigns Post Here

Rev. Allen M. Peterson, pastor of the Bloomingburg and McNair Presbyterian Churches since Jan. 13, 1950, submitted his resignation at a joint meeting of the sessions from both churches Saturday.

The resignation is effective Feb. 15. Rev. Peterson said Monday he has accepted a call from the First Presbyterian Church of Whippany, N. J., which is about 14 miles from Newark, N. J.

Whippany is a community of about 3,000 residents. At the present time the church is without a pastor.

ing donations for the polio drive.

A fair amount of money was taken in, but Dews pointed out that the skit was staged primarily to remind the public that the March of Dimes campaign would start Monday.

Incidentally, the campaign will last for two weeks, until Jan. 31.

Richard Rankin is the head of the house-to-house campaign and Rev. Allan W. Caley is in charge of getting special gifts.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 15—(AP)—It took a long time for the grain market to make up its mind over what direction it wanted to go today, but finally the market staged a brisk rally in the closing hour.

The advance came after the president's budget message to Congress, which contained no mention of price ceilings

Prior to the late rally the market had done some nervous backing and filling. It rose early in a small buying flurry, turned around and dropped under Saturday's finish on a sudden expansion in selling and then worked its way back toward the previous close.

The Nation Today

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Jan. 15—(AP)—No one questions the need for this country to prepare for war, if war becomes necessary, or to make sacrifice to get defenses built.

And the people have been told that a lot of things they used to buy will disappear as more of the materials went into them go into tanks and planes.

But this question has been in many minds:

"How is it going to be in the years ahead? Will it all be downhill, with the defense program going on indefinitely and goods getting scarcer and scarcer?"

President Truman hasn't predicted how long the defense program will be necessary but in his economic message yesterday, he held out this hope:

After a few years—if there's no war—a lot of the scarce or disappearing consumer goods may be coming back on the market, even with a big defense program operating.

In that section of his message which dealt with wages, Mr. Truman said:

"The predominant general rule should be to achieve stage wage rates until the flow of consumer goods can be increased."

It was a significant statement. He didn't elaborate on it. But government economists explain it this way:

Right now this country has a hurry-up job of building defenses. And it still will be a hurry-up job for the next several years.

This means a lot of materials, like copper and steel, which have been going into consumer goods like radios or cars or refrigerators will have to go into tanks and planes.

So, as the months pass and the factories turn more and more to defense production, there'll be less consumer goods, although the government still will try to see that essential civilian needs are filled.

But the plants not only will be turning out defense items but will be expanding or, as the economists say, increasing their capacity to produce.

And that has a double meaning:

The present defense program is far less than all-out war production but the program will enable the country to go all-out if war comes and, by expanding their capacity to produce, the plants will be in a position to outdo themselves in war production.

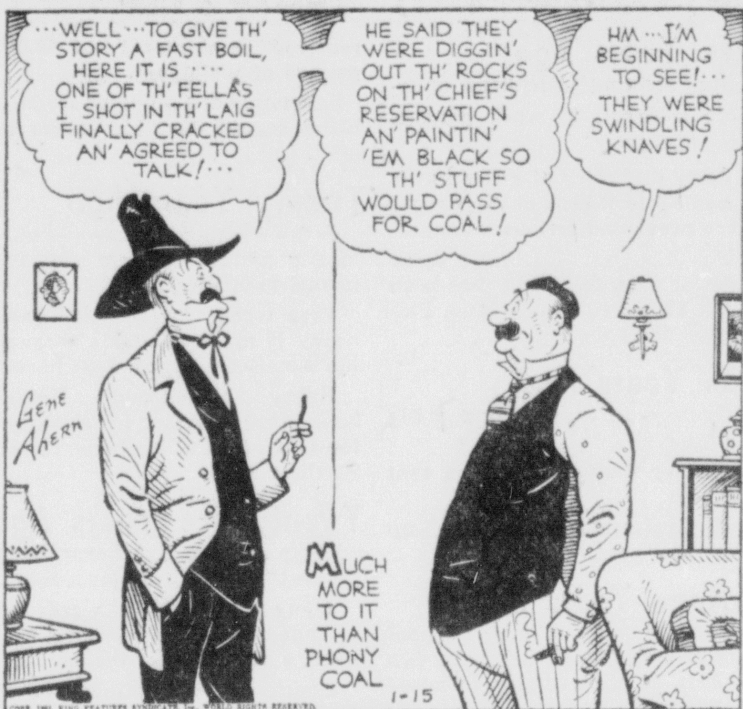

But if war doesn't come, the expansion will give the nation room to produce not only for the continuing defense program but for civilians, too.

If war doesn't come, the country still will be heavily armed and using a lot of its production for defense, year by year. That seems to be the picture right now.

Perhaps in five years—and this is only a guess—the defenses will be built up to a point where the expanded production ability will let the country keep on with defense production but at the same time leave room for civilian items.

For example, the president speaks on the present ability of the whole American steel industry to produce about 103,000,000 tons of steel a year.

But then he points out that his council of economic advisors estimate that in the next three or four years we shall have to be able to produce 120,000,000 tons of steel a year.

In the president's words: "In the case of steel, for example, we must raise the capacity of the industry from its present level of about 103,000,000 ingot tons a year by enough to support our defense effort and to sustain our civilian economy."

"The council of economic advisors estimates that this will require an increase in capacity to about 120,000,000 ingot tons in the next three or four years."

No one is suggesting that, in time, we'll be able to have two kinds of economy running full blast side by side: a war economy and a normal peacetime economy.

What is suggested in the president's words is this:

In time—if there's no war—this country can produce enormously for defense and at the same time produce a great quantity of things which have given Americans the highest living standards in the world.

Of course, when that time comes—if it comes—there's another serious question which will face the country:

If taxes are extremely high,

Binegar Heads Agronomy Group

Work Is Planned by Fayette Committee

Delbert Binegar of Jefferson Township has been elected chairman of the executive committee of the Fayette County agronomy improvement committee.

Other members representing each township are: George Speakman, Nathan Cooper, Willard Williamson, Merle Jenkins, Adam Davis, Dean Cory, John Templin, Leo Fisher, and Horace Wilson.

The agronomy improvement committee is one of the advisory groups for the Agricultural Extension Service, according to Albert G. Cobb, associate county agent. This committee is studying the needs of the farmers relating to the total agronomy program. The committee is also planning demonstrations, agronomy extension meetings and tours that will be of interest to the farmers in the county. This work will show the approved practices taught by Ohio State University and the Agricultural Experiment Station.

In addition to planning these many activities, it will assist in conducting some of the educational meetings held in the county this winter.

Binegar appointed the following sub-committees:

The agronomy meetings committee that will assist in planning farmer meetings relating to agronomy, James Wagner, chairman, Adam Davis, and Robert Haigler.

Willard Bitzer was appointed chairman of the hay and pasture committee. Others on the committee are Leo Fisher, George Speakman, Will Braun, and Willard Williamson. Harold C. Mark was named chairman of the crops committee. Others on the committee are Elba Carson, John Templin, Dean Cory, and Joe McClure.

Langdon McCoy is chairman of the soil and water conservation committee. This committee will work with the soil conservation district board of supervisors to develop a program that will encourage further use of soil conservation in the county. The committee will also assist in organizing a soil conservation 4-H club this year. Others on the committee are Nathan Cooper, Frank Sollars, Horace Wilson, and Merle Jenkins.

Tractor Club To Be Formed

Lowell Woods, 4-H tractor advisor of Wayne Township, has been elected to a state committee to study the 4-H tractor program and make recommendations for improving the program carried on in many counties of Ohio. Woods was one of ten 4-H tractor advisors in the state to receive this honor.

The tractor club organizational meeting will be held at Don Scholl's implement store near Washington C. H., January 29 at 7:30 P. M. The 4-H tractor club offers a splendid opportunity to the boys and girls in Fayette County who operate tractors to receive instruction in the proper operation of the farm tractors.

Fayette County is fortunate in having three highly trained advisors to lead these clubs. They are Lowell Woods, Eldon Hidy, and Robert Browning.

Any boy or girl who desires to become a member of this club should plan to attend the organizational meeting. Members who complete the required work are eligible to compete in the Tractor Rodeo Contest. Entertainment and refreshments will be one of the features of this meeting.

All those attending should contact Albert G. Cobb, associate county agent, by January 25, so that sufficient materials will be available.

New Martinsburg PTA

The New Martinsburg PTA will meet in the town hall in New Martinsburg at 8 P. M. Tuesday. Wilson Webb will show pictures. There will also be some music played.

Wild West Shrine In Texas Torn Down

DEL RIO, Tex. —(AP)—The Val Verde Hotel, where Judge Roy Bean meted out the only law west of the Pecos, 78 years ago is being torn down.

The Southern Pacific Railroad built the building when Indian tribes menaced the white man. J.

W. Burns, whose mother operated the hotel in its early days, says "a man could get a clean bed for 25 cents in those days and a whole beef liver for five cents."

The Val Verde is the fourth of Del Rio's old hostleries to be dismantled.

will the people have enough money to buy those consumer goods if they come back on the market, high-priced?

And one other question: if sure peace comes and the defense program can be dropped, what happens to all that expanded plant capacity. It could be used for civilian goods. But will there be a market for all that?

Will United Nations Prove To Be a Flop?

Are stilted phrases, kid-glove diplomacy and endless line of talk likely to make the United Nations organization become a complete fizzle?

With great fanfare the organization of the United Nations was touted as a confederation of all the free and democratic nations of the world whose total military and economic strength would render aggression by any country impossible. It was to be a real and workable league of nations backed by strength instead of idealism.

Soon afterward for some reason never fully explained to the people, a condition was made which soon after permitted any decision by a majority, even though many more than a mere majority, to become useless by allowing a veto by any one of a few major powers. This developed a situation whereby Russia practically assumed control by constant use of the veto.

When South Korea was invaded, the United States was first to answer the call, and to this day has borne the brunt of the fighting, with only token assistance from others.

After China entered the conflict openly, representatives of the Chinese Communists were invited to come to New York and discuss terms of settlement. These delegates from Red China appeared before the assembly and delivered a vicious attack upon the United States, and not a peep was heard from any of the nations represented in defense of either the United Nations or the United States.

An early suspicion that the United Nations is nothing more than a diplomatic pink tea, where highly paid representatives of the various nations are living on the fat of the United States, solving nothing and caring little, seems close to being confirmed.

Russia has been calling the tunes since the start of the United Nations, and the United States has been doing most of the dancing.

Some alleged friendly countries who are supposed to be free and thinking along democratic lines now find their threatened commercial interests more important than any ideals of justice. As a result they want appeasement and are pulling away from us. They still insist upon our helping them, however.

Red Stooges in U. S.

One of the nagging worries for America, if war comes, remains the leadership of certain important unions. Despite belated efforts of the AFL and CIO to divest their organizations of fellow travelers, there are still unions that seem to be controlled by men who take the Moscow line.

There is an independent United Electrical Workers which has great influence on production in the electronics field—in industries which make the equipment upon which America relies for warnings against hostile aircraft and other war purposes. Harry Bridges, head of the maritime unions, is still entrenched on the west coast and in Hawaii.

The authorities have been fiddling with Bridges for years but they never get the job of fixing his hash quite accomplished. Now the Coast Guard is on the job to weed out potential dock-worker saboteurs.

There is a left wing Mine, Mill & Smelter Workers, ousted by the CIO, which has 44,000 workers in highly strategic metal industries. Farm equipment and food processing plants also have a smattering of workers who stink of Communism, and could do heavy damage to American supply lines.

Even the United Public Workers—government workers if you please—have been charged with Communist domination and expelled by the CIO. What a mockery it would be if the Commies started setting up road blocks in Washington.

In case of trouble America will get these Moscow stooges, belatedly. But not, perhaps, before they have done heavy damage.

Scientist says civilization is only in the adolescent stage. It certainly acts giddier than a bobbysoxer.

First things should be considered first, of course. But an interesting speculation is, how much will it cost to support countries we may defeat in another war?

Cheju Now Is Haven for Refugees

By Hal Boyle

CHEJU, Korea, Jan. 15—(AP)—This island off South Korea used to be the best place in the world to be a man.

It was a kind of masculine Eden. Women did all the hard work. The men folk just loafed around home all day, bating the children around if they got out of line. And at night the wives brought home the bacon.

A man didn't even have to worry about politics. The women ran the government, too, as well as the deep sea diving. And they did the plowing and the hoeing on the small stony farms. Life was rugged, but as long as his wife's health lasted the husband didn't have much to fret about.

War has changed this male paradise, once a popular port of call for tourists who liked to take snapshots of deep-chested lady divers grappling in the briny deep for iodine-rich seaweed and abalone.

It has become a refugee sanctuary for all Korea, and a prospective Gibraltar or second Formosa of the Pacific. What Formosa is for the Chinese Nationalist government the island of Cheju is becoming for the hard-pressed Korean Republic government of President Syngman Rhee.

Cheju is a poor and mountainous island, harassed by recurring guerrilla uprisings. It is about 45 miles long and 12 miles wide—roughly one-seventh the size of Formosa.

It bears approximately the same relation to Korea in peacetime that Sicily does to Italy. Its males normally migrate to all parts of the Orient, and this migration explains the fact that customarily there are more women than men here.

Why men want to leave a place where women do most of the work is a question the sociologists are still studying. The men who stay say the men who go away don't know a good thing when they have it.

But enough men have always stayed to keep Cheju's rocky acres overcrowded with a population of about 200,000. They export products from the sea, but have to import rice from the mainland.

It is a pleasantly uncivilized land. You can stroll along a dusty road five miles out of town and meet only a country gentleman lazily escorting a shaggy-coated black pig to market. Or you may have to run from a band of guerrillas slipping down from the hills to burn and loot the valley villages and to join a stray wife or two. Life always has an element of surprise here.

The last major guerrilla uprising, in the spring of 1948, was a particularly bloody affair. It was smashed, but the hill rebels still come down in small groups every few weeks to grab cattle and shoot up a few national police.

So far they haven't bothered the two small American contingents stationed here.

What Became of Chemist Black?

By George Sokolsky

One of the most important facts established in the Harry Gold case was that the Amtorg Trading Company was the center of Soviet espionage in this country.

That has often appeared in testimony before congressional committees during the past decade and has generally been ignored by our government.

Now, to return to Gold, the spy. From his testimony it appears that he had become acquainted with a chemist whose name is Mr. Black. I do not find a first name and Black was not called as a witness, so maybe he is dead or something.

Whatever became of Black, he was a Communist and he wanted Gold to be a member of the Communist party. Gold had no wish to be a Communist. He was willing to be a spy but not Communist. He apparently felt that it was immoral and indecent to be a Communist but not to be a spy. In this curious amoral world in be adversely affected by diseases of a general nature.

One of the most common of the disorders of the nails is ringworm infection, often accompanied by infection of the skin of the hands and the feet by the same parasite.

Though ringworm brings about destruction of the nails, it causes no pain. If the condition is suspected, a definite diagnosis can be made by examination, under the microscope, of scrapings from the nails.

Form of Treatment

A number of forms of treatment for the condition have been advised. The preparation known as Whitfield's ointment, used in double strength after the nails have been scraped, may be helpful. X-ray treatments are also useful. The surgical removal of the nails has been tried, but this will not produce a permanent cure. Treatment with preparations of silver nitrate has also been successful.

Psoriasis is another disorder, which may affect the nails as well as the skin. In the latter, there are scaly patches on the knees, elbows, and other parts of the body.

When psoriasis affects the nails, the nails separate from the nail bed and become loosened, meanwhile changing their color to a yellowish-brown. They become shortened and may eventually be destroyed.

This is also a difficult disorder to treat successfully, though the preparation known as cignolin, painted on with a brush, may give good results. Salicylate salves also are used. X-ray treatments have also been employed in this condition with benefit. Treatment with arsenic preparations, given by injection into a muscle, have helped some patients.

It is well recognized that certain disturbances of the nails may be due to deficiency of vitamins. In these cases there are depressions or dents crosswise on the nail and there are lines which run lengthwise. In severe cases there may be actual nail destruction.

The B-complex vitamins seem to be the most important ones in so far as these nail disorders are concerned. When large quantities of these vitamins are administered, improvement promptly results.

Cobb 7th on Money-winning List Of Harness Horse Race Drivers

AERIAL VIEW OF FAIRMEADE FARM, training track, stables and grounds recently purchased by McKinley Kirk and Eddie Cobb of Washington C. H.

Eddie Cobb, Washington C. H. harness horse reinsman, finished last year's campaign in seventh place among the country's leading money-winning drivers, according to figures just compiled by the United States Trotting Association.

Cobb, who has a reputation as a trainer that just about parallels that as a driver, took down $109,048.50 in purses last year. Much of that was won by horses that he owns personally; the rest represents money won by horses he was driving for the other owners.

Cobb, already an owner-trainer-driver, is now getting into the breeding end of the sport, too. He and his father-in-law, McKinley Kirk, have purchased the 373-acre Fairmeade Farm in Clinton County from W. J. Galvin of Wilmington.

Fairmeade long has been rated as one of the top standardbred horse breeding farms of the country and Kirk and Cobb have said they plan to continue to operate it along the same lines. Both, however, plan to continue to live in Washington C. H.

Cobb also has an arrangement with Dr. Roy Knisley of Toledo, who is now in the process of developing a harness race horse breeding farm on the CCC Highway just east of Washington C. H.

Kirk has his own breeding farm east of here on the Circleville Pike near New Holland. He said he has never considered abandoning that establishment.

Galvin and his son, Wayne of Lima, have let it be known that they plan to continue to breed harness horses, but on a greatly reduced scale. They also race a few.

For Miller it was a jump from 23rd place in 1949 with only $56,239.28 to the top.

Simpson holding down second money with a total of $234,519.62 was leading dash winner of the year. He has 111 wins to his credit. Miller was second in winning dashes with 108.

may be of long duration and we must be prepared for crisis in the more distant as well as in the immediate future."

Estimates Tentative
The budget document itself was a mail-order catalogue sized item, although stripped this time of the usual detailed breakdowns on military costs, partly for security reasons but also because estimates are still tentative.

In addition to the $41,421,000,000 for the military which the president asked in cash, he said the armed forces' authority to enter into contracts, for which actual funds would be voted later, should be upped by $70,000,000,000. Of this, $10,000,000,000 would be charged up to this fiscal year.

The message accompanying the budget, although fated for the historic formal process of a dorned-off reading to Congress by clerks, was directed at the whole world.

"The new emphasis on military preparedness reflects the necessities of the world situation today," Mr. Truman said.

"It reflects no shift of purpose. Our purpose remains to secure and strengthen peace."

"We are determined to seek peace by every honorable means—mindful of our responsibility to ourselves, to our friends and Allies, and to humanity everywhere to spare the world the tragedy of another world war."

"We are likewise determined to spare ourselves and the world the even deeper tragedy of the surrender of justice and freedom."

Communists Assailed
Frequently the president struck at "Communist aggression" and he declared that the Korean attack showed "the Soviet rulers are willing to risk the peace of the world to carry out their ambitions."

For the U. S. and its Allies, he had this reply:

"In response to the grave common peril, the free world is now moving forward, with increased speed, determination and unity, to build powerful defenses. This mutual effort is required both to deter further Communist aggression and to insure that we shall emerge victorious if war is thrust upon us."

"This nation, as the strongest member of the free world, must provide the leadership in this great undertaking by developing its own military forces and x x x assisting other free nations on a large scale, in order to quickly achieve adequate mutual defenses."

Sacrifice and hardship are ahead on the home front, Mr. Truman said.

"I have presented a budget to meet our country's needs in a period of danger," he said in ending his message.

"We are building the military and economic strength which alone has meaning to the men who control world Communism. This is the only realistic road to a world peace based on justice and individual freedom.

"Our young men will devote more years to military service. All of us will work longer and harder than we have worked before. We will pay much heavier taxes. x x x

"In return we will get something precious—strength to meet and overcome the barbaric threat of Communism in whatever manner it confronts us."

"We in this nation have always, in time of national emergency, risen with unity and vigor to the defense of our free institutions and way of life. We are responding now. We go forward with faith and confidence to meet and win the tests ahead."

Tax Burden Growing
The message showed the president expects the government to take in an unprecedented amount of revenue in fiscal 1952. Even without the $16,546,000,000 he said should be levied to balance the budget, Mr. Truman estimated the net tax take at $55,138,000,000. That allows for $2,703,000,000 in tax refunds.

This total compares with an anticipated revenue of $44,512,000,000 in current fiscal 1951 and the $44,762,000,000 in wartime fiscal 1945, the record actual intake thus far.

Even without further tax hikes, Mr. Truman said, "direct taxes on individuals" will continue the No. 1 revenue source, yielding $22,309,000,000 in fiscal 1951 and rising next year to $26,780,000,000, with income levies accounting for $26,025,000,000 and estate and gift taxes $755,000,000.

There was never anything like that before. Direct taxes on individuals reached a wartime peak of $20,290,000,000 in fiscal 1944 and rose subsequently to $21,896,000,000 in boomtime fiscal 1948. The Republican 80th Congress then voted a multi-billion dollar cut in individual taxes.

The president seemed confident, however, of popular support for his spending and tax-hike program, in fact saying:

"When the American people resolved to undertake the defense program now under way, they accepted also the necessity for the increases in their taxes that the new level of expenditures requires. National security in the present world can be attained only with direct and heavy cost to each one of us."

His specific tax-boosting proposals were deferred for a special message to be transmitted to Congress shortly—probably during February—but the budget message gave some hint on how they would hit:

1. Widely, for it is necessary to "distribute the heavy financial costs of defense fairly among all the people."

2. Intensely, especially in form of excise (sales) taxes because it is necessary to "reduce excessive (civilian) demand for raw materials and industrial products required for national defense."

"High taxes are indispensable to our successful mobilization," the president said. "We cannot as a nation buy a defense establishment of the size that is now being constructed and still as individuals expect to spend our money to the same degree as before for normal peacetime purposes."

Galion Beaten By Lion Cagers

The Lion cagers today were back in the class rooms of Washington C. H. High School after a weekend invasion of north central Ohio receiving congratulations of their school mates.

But what was equally important, they came back with a little more confidence in their marksmanship after piling up 71 points as they came from behind, with a never-die spirit, to nose out Galion, 71 to 69, Saturday night.

After that game they knew they had something that they could not find the night before when they were swamped, 86 to 50, at Ashland.

The amazing part of the excursion is that Ashland had previously beaten Galion by only 2 points. Less than five points separated the teams all through the free scoring contest at Galion and a last second bucket by Bob Alkire gave the nod to the Lions.

The Lions, who seemed out of form in their game at Ashland, turned into a smooth working machine at Galion as they matched point for point throughout the game.

All but five of the Lions got in on the scoring.

THE OPENING QUARTER started lively with both teams working the ball in and making their shots count. The hosts came out best in the quarter with the score reading 16 to 15.

Most of the first half scoring for the Tigers was carried out by two of their hot shots, Seif and Manspringer, who gathered in all but two of the first half points. Alkire, Dave Sheidler and Barry Smith were high at the half with 24 points among them. The half ended with a two point difference, 31 to 28 in the Tiger's favor.

In the second half the Tigers switched to a zone defense and the scoring loosened up with the Tigers getting 19 more counters and the Lions tying the game up with 22 more. Thus making the score read, 50-50 at the end of the third frame.

The fourth quarter got underway with both teams trying for a winning lead as the advantage switched back and forth. With 15 seconds to go the game was tied at 68-all.

With five seconds left WHS had the ball out of bounds and the problem was whether to freeze the ball and go into overtime or try for the hoop. Alkire solved the problem with a layup shot to put the finishing touches on a thrilling game.

Manspringer was high scorer for the game and the hosts with 27 points while the bulk of the Lions' points were spread among Alkire with 19, Robinett 16 and Sheidler 15.

The Lions will go to Hillsboro to renew their scrap for the SCO crown Friday evening.

WHC Bowlers Beat Springfield

Two Washington C. H. bowling teams did it again—they beat two Springfield teams convincingly for the second time in consecutive Sunday special matches.

Paul Pennington's All Star League quintet finished up its Sunday match at Bowland here with a 322-pin edge over the Elite Cleaners and Warner's Servicemen edged The Mill team by 179 pins. Both Washington C. H. teams won all three games, although the match was decided on total pins for the three-game series.

The previous Sunday, these same teams met on Springfield alleys with virtually the same results.

Rassles Show by Gals Jam-packs Armory Here

MAYBE TELEVISION is responsible, but anyway, there was a liberal sprinkling of youngsters at the girl wrestling show at the Armory here Saturday night. The small fry besieged the gals for autographs (above) before, between and after the matches. The Armory was packed for this return of the mat sport to Washington C. H. after more than a decade. (Record-Herald Photo)

The gal rassles put on their show Saturday night in the Washington C. H. Armory and probably brought another sport to the citizens.

Between 500 and 700 persons saw the gals toss their respective opponents around the ring and they cheered.

The opener put Irish Kelly and Princess Dawn Eagle in the same ring with referee Roy "Red" Morris and before the match was over the Princess tossed Morris around a bit too. She also won the fall from Irish in about 10 minutes with a body smother.

Morris, by the way, a Washington C. H. resident and a former wrestler himself, commented: "This is rougher on me than wrestling."

THE SECOND match presented Gorgeous Georgia, the heroine, and something called "The Thing." There was some speculation by members of the audience as to the sex of "The Thing" but despite their urging "its" opponents were unable to take the mask off.

Georgia who "ain't so bad looking," took seven minutes to subdue "The Thing" with body slams and winding it up with a smother.

Princess Dawn Eagle came back in the third match with Christine Ray as her opponent. Christine is billed as the "world's lightweight champion" and the Princess didn't fare so well with her. The fall took 10 minutes and ended when Christine tossed the Princess on her royal dignity with a monkey flip off the ropes and smothered her for the count.

AFTER INTERMISSION the feature event took place. It was an Australian tag match which teamed Gorgeous Georgia and Christine Ray against Princess Dawn Eagle and "The Thing."

This type of match puts one member of each team in the ring with the other two in opposite corners. When one of the members in the ring figures it's time to quit she tags her partner and the partner then takes over.

Saturday night it didn't always work that way as the over exuberant partners would jump in and tangle with anyone around, including the referee.

Georgia got the first fall for her map in her opponents' eyes. This, in some circles, is considered not cricket.

Finally, after about seven minutes of the third round, the referee unceremoniously-like and gave the fall to Gorgeous and Christine.

By the way, D. W. Van Vleet, promoter, said the girls will probably be back sometime next month.

County Cagers Meet Friday

Jeffersonville's Tigres open this week's cage games when the South Charleston team pays them a visit Tuesday evening in a non-league game.

Good Hope's Mad Anthonys will go to Jeffersonville while the Bulldogs of Bloomingburg go to Madison Mills. Good Hope is leading the league with two wins and a loss followed by Jeff and Madison Mills with one win and one loss each. Bloomingburg has a one win and two loss record so far.

RBI Champs Tie

NEW YORK—(AP)—The American League's 1650 battle for the runs - batted-in championships wound up for the second straight season with two players from the same club sharing the laurels. The co-winners were Vern Stephens and Walt Dropo of the Red Sox. Each drove in 144 runs. In 1949 Stephens and teammate Ted Williams tied with 159 rbi's each.

Hillsboro Juniors Here on Wednesday

The Lions Cubs of Washington C. H. Junior High will try for a clean sweep of their league play Wednesday afternoon as they play host to the Papooses of Hillsboro.

So far, they have won games from the other league teams, beating Circleville 38 to 36 Jan. 8. They opened their season with a win from Greenfield, 48 to 38, and followed that with a 23 to 26 win over the Wilmington boys. Their only loss this season was to the Chillicothe team, 23 to 40.

197 Night Ball Games For American League

CHICAGO, Jan. 15—(AP)—American League baseball parks will flick on the lights for 197 games in the 1951 season, including the first opening night game in the junior circuit's history.

The 1951 schedule released today tabs April 16 as the start of the pennant chase with New York at Washington for the traditional bass-tossing ceremony by President Truman.

Hillsboro's Indians Next on Lion Slate

Hillsboro's Indians, the only SCO League team idle last Friday night, today had another victory on their basketball record book. They beat the Fairborn boys, 65 to 31.

The Indians, who have been having their ups and downs this season just like the rest of the SCO teams, were "up" Saturday night for the Fairborn game. The outcome was never in doubt, once the Indians got going on the war-path. The only question was the size of the score they would run up.

The Lions of WHS nosed out the Indians in their second game of the season here in an overtime period, 65 to 63.

The two teams meet again next Friday night at Hillsboro. While the Indians were wallowing Fairborn, the Lions were upstate breaking even on their two-game excursion. They were swamped 86-50 at Ashville (which incidentally, is considered one of the top teams in the state) Friday night, but they came back Saturday night like their jungle namesake to beat Galion, 71 to 69.

Brown and Graham Lead Americans to Win in Pro Bowl

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 15.—(P)—
Yes, sir, Paul 'N' Otto, the championship combine from Cleveland, mowed 'em down again.

Coach Paul Brown stuck with his ace quarterback Otto Graham, just as he said he would. And in the end Otto stuck the National Conference All-Stars, leading his American Conference mates to a stirring 28 to 27 win in the Pro Bowl yesterday.

It completed the personal triumph of Brown and Graham over the National Football League.
After four All-America conference titles the Browns of Cleveland moved right into the NFL's throne room despite the most stubborn opposition ever seen in pro grid circles.

And now this:
Graham, with a 27-14 defeat starring at him in the third quarter, caught fire, as he did in the Browns' 30-28 championship win over the Los Angeles Rams Dec.
24. He started hitting his pass receivers and then, when the defenses spread, Otto sneaked off guard six and nine yards for two quick touchdowns. Pat Harder's pair of conversions proved decisive.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—(P)—Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler is convinced that he has won the confidence of the American public.

Speaking at the annual diamond dinner of the Chicago baseball writers last night
